CORE MONITORING GUIDE

PREFACE

The development of the Core Monitoring Guide is an important part of the Employment and Training Administration's (ETA's) overall strategy to improve grant administration, specifically on-site monitoring of grantees. Improving grant administration is a crucial element of the Department of Labor's and ETA's management improvement plans supporting the President's Management Agenda. ETA's successful achievement of its Mission, Vision and Guiding Principles is premised on the delivery of high-quality, outcome-focused job seeker and business services through effective financial agreements with the state and local workforce system organizations.

ETA has articulated a clear vision of the workforce development system that is demand-driven and fully integrated, and links employers to job seekers in order to promote the success of American workers and businesses. This Core Monitoring Guide ensures that our oversight and monitoring practices reinforce these principles while ensuring program outcomes are achieved and a high level of integrity is maintained.

This guide provides a consistent framework and starting point for all on-site grant monitoring responsibilities by ETA. ETA has been moving forward in a coordinated effort to improve the consistency of oversight while relying on and providing opportunities for Federal Project Officers (FPOs) to bring their professional judgments and experience to the process. This effort began with the issuance of Employment and Training Order 01-03 in April 2003, and continued with the development of the Grants E-Management System, increased commitment to FPO training, and, now, this Core Monitoring Guide.

The Core Monitoring Guide has been developed based on the premise that there are essential core functions that must be in place in order for any grantee to operate an ETA grant within the boundaries of acceptable practices that are established primarily by law, regulation, and/or government-wide rule. In addition, ETA plans to develop program-specific guides which will complement the Core Monitoring Guide and add program specific review objectives and indicators. Combined, these guides will become an integral part of an FPO "tool kit." However, for those ETA grants (e.g., earmarks, pilots and demos, etc.) where there may be no program specific guide, the Core Monitoring Guide would remain the primary tool for review.

Since this guide is generic, it is limited to an examination of basic core activities that are found in all ETA grants and is intended to provide an examination of the readiness and capacity of the grantee to operate the grant. The generic quality of the guide also means that the legislative authority for compliance requirements is limited to those requirements that apply to all ETA grants. These are typically found in Office of Management and Budget circulars and the terms and conditions specific to each grant, but the guide also includes expectations for services or operations that are generally accepted practice across ETA.

This guide is the outcome of many different individuals and offices within ETA working together to produce the best possible product to meet a diverse set of needs. The guide is intended to be continually reviewed and updated based on experience, practice, and changing requirements.

General Instructions

INTRODUCTION

This guide should be used as a component of an overall grant management strategy or work plan developed by each regional or national office responsible for grant oversight. This work plan should incorporate the ETA Grants E-Management System (GEMS) “risk assessment” process, Core Monitoring Guide, and program-specific monitoring tools to efficiently address oversight priorities. The assigned risk category, as specified in GEMS, alerts ETA of possible problems that jeopardize grant integrity and performance. The use of the Core Monitoring Guide can confirm the extent of the risk and the core functions that are affected. The Core Monitoring Guide will be the basis of monitoring activities for all ETA programs. The guide has been developed to provide Federal staff with a tool that may be used to review any ETA funded grant activity. Program-specific monitoring tools will be developed to supplement the Core Monitoring Guide and will be used to determine compliance with specific program requirements and identify promising practices and exemplary program models. The Core Monitoring Guide is anticipated to be available to the Federal Project Officers (FPOs) in an electronic format so that it may be customized as needed by the FPO to more effectively monitor different types of grantees.

HOW THE GUIDE IS ORGANIZED

This guide is organized around five generic core activities: design and governance; program and grant management systems; financial management systems; service delivery; and performance accountability. Each core activity is, in turn, organized around generic requirements that were derived from legislation, regulations, or promising practices that relate to that core activity. These requirements or expectations are called objectives. Each objective is followed by indicators. Indicators are those attributes or criteria that attest that the objective or requirement is being met. The indicators are marked with a (C) for compliance indicators that must be met or an (E) for effectiveness indicators. Each indicator comes with FPO guidance on how to assess the indicator and a space to add notes or indicate the sources of information used in your assessment.

Each section begins with general instructions relevant to the core activity. The first page of each section also contains space for summarizing the monitoring results. Each objective for the core activity, including the citations for the authoritative source of core requirements, follows with its associated indicators and FPO guidance.

The appendices contain resource materials that are referenced in the guide. The reference materials include a list of definitions for terms found in the guide or requirement, a cross reference of administrative requirements and a chart detailing allowable cost standards.

PREPARING FOR AN ON-SITE VISIT

Gather background materials. The guide is designed to be used in the field. To prepare for the site visit, review the guide and identify documents called for as reference documents for the grantee organization. In addition, familiarity with the operations of the grantee can make the on-site visit and monitoring process more efficient. This may be accomplished by reviewing the grants, financial and programmatic reports, past monitoring reports, and audit summaries. Parts of the guide, such as the calculation of actual performance, can be completed prior to the on-site visit using data contained in the reports and grant documents. List questions that may arise as to how the grantee is organized, relationships with subrecipients, and the location of documents and staff who will be sources of information for the monitoring visits.

Coordinate guide with data sources. The guide is organized around key topics called core activities, not around sources of information. As stated above, each core activity is organized around objectives that must be met by the grantee organization and indicators used to assess the grantee's accomplishment of the objective. The reviewer must plan how interviews will be organized to maximize grantee staff availability and avoid going back and forth between agencies, departments, or personnel. This might be done by marking the guide so that questions for a particular set of respondents are easily located. You may also rely upon the FPO guidance portions of each indicator that identify sources of information to develop a listing of source documents you wish the grantee to have available for your review. This list can be sent to the grantee so that arrangements can be made to have staff and documents ready for your visit.

USE OF THE GUIDE ON-SITE

FPO Guidance. Each indicator comes with guidance for determining if the indicator is present and will often contain sources of information you may wish to review. This guidance can be supplemented with other methods for documenting the existence of an indicator. There are questions listed below the guidance that you might use to begin your assessment of whether the indicator is present. These questions are provided as a means to begin your research. You may use these questions, expand upon their use or employ other means of assessing the grantee's performance. Check the box provided in the summary of indicators to show that the indicator is present. Use the space provided in each separate indicator to record the information or information source that was used to make your determination. The boxes for each indicator are expandable in the electronic version. Record your notes and specific findings at the indicator level, so that if questions arise later you have a means for recreating the basis for your determination.

Objective Conclusions. Based upon your review of the indicator(s), you will need to determine if the objective has been met. If there are multiple indicators for an objective, you will need to base your decision as to whether the objective has been met on the relative importance of the indicators and if there is a compliance factor involved.

Summary of Findings for Core Activity. On the first page of each section is space for summarizing the findings for the core activity. Specifically, the summary is organized around:

- Promising Practices
- Findings or High-Risk Factors
- Other Observations

This summary section is designed to assist you with the development of your written report. Each section is designed to provide for a short sentence or description of grantee processes or program design elements that would be addressed in your written report. Promising Practices are those processes that you believe, based on your review, to be effective in operation and that you would recommend to another grantee. You would summarize or list the compliance findings under Findings or High-Risk Factors. The Other Observations section may be used to document additional information about the grantee organization or operation you wish to include in your written report, including a discussion of effectiveness objectives and/or indicators that have not been met. There should be links between this summary and notes and conclusions recorded for objectives and indicators.

USE OF THE RESULTS IN THE REPORT

Once the on-site review has been completed, the guide is to be used to develop the report to the grantee. The report must address all compliance findings. While there is no prescribed format for the report, each report should include the following, at a minimum:

Background—this section would cover the details of the review, when it was conducted, staff interviewed, etc.

Results of the review—this section would address each issue listed in the summary tables at the beginning of each core activity and be organized to provide the grantee with appropriate detail related to Promising Practices, Findings or High-Risk Factors, and Other Observations. All violations of compliance requirements would be considered as Findings or High-Risk Factors. Each finding should contain a description of the compliance violation, the cause of the violation if known, the citation supporting the finding as a compliance issue, and the requirement for appropriate corrective action by the grantee, including time frames for completion. Promising Practices would detail those practices or processes that are particularly effective or efficient and/or may be replicated. Other Observations would detail those grantee activities related to effectiveness objectives or indicators that have not been met. The report is to be structured around the objectives of each core activity and any findings or other information must be related to a specific objective number.

Summary—this section of the report would summarize for the grantee the promising processes or practices that have been identified during the review, findings of non-compliance with required corrective action, and any other observations about the grantee operations related to a specific objective. This summary would be based on the list or description of issues that were itemized in the summary section for each core activity. Anticipated follow up for any issues identified in the review should also be addressed.

Subsequent to the review, the results of using the guide in conducting the review are to be entered into GEMS at the objective level for each core activity.

CONCLUSION

The Core Monitoring Guide is intended to be used to review the fundamental processes and procedures generally applicable to all ETA-funded grant activity. There will be instances, however, where the objectives or indicators do not apply to the specific grant or grants that you are reviewing. The guide may be customized to best fit your needs as the FPO in conducting the review and those objectives or indicators that are not reviewed may be marked as non-applicable. The guide will also be available electronically, and you may excerpt for your on-site use those objectives and/or indicators that apply specifically to the type of grant(s) you are reviewing. The guide may also be supplemented with documentation, applicable notes, or a more lengthy discussion of findings. Any additional materials obtained during the review or additional pages of discussion need to be maintained with the review guide. The completed guide becomes part of the documentation for the monitoring report that should provide the reader with a clear understanding of the reviewer's reasoning for conclusions drawn. The guide also provides the detail that may be needed to articulate specific corrective actions.

CORE ACTIVITY 1

DESIGN AND GOVERNANCE

Core Activity 1 addresses design and governance principles that can guide and support the grantee’s strategy for developing a demand-driven workforce system. A demand-driven system is one which meets the needs of employers by developing a qualified and competitive workforce while preparing job seekers for the jobs and careers of the future.

CORE ACTIVITY 1 GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

The purpose of Core Activity 1 is to evaluate the grantee’s program design and governance in the context of a demand-driven system. The reviewer looks at how the grantee designs its programs to provide the tools and products that support business growth and economic development, to provide services that prepare workers to take advantage of job opportunities in high-growth and high-demand occupations, and to provide services to the employer and job seeker within an integrated service delivery system. The reviewer looks at governance in the context of how leadership is identifying the workforce needs in high-growth and economically-critical industries and the preparation required of workers to succeed in those occupations, as well as understanding the workforce challenges that must be addressed to ensure a prepared and competitive workforce.

CORE ACTIVITY 2

PROGRAM AND GRANT MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS

Program and grant management systems support grant functions or activities that are necessary for the operation of a project but are not related to the direct provision of services. These grant functions include personnel, administrative and oversight, management information, and reporting systems. Those functions NOT incorporated in Core Activity 3—Financial Management Systems—are incorporated herein. In addition, activities are included when their purpose is to ensure compliance with applicable statutory, regulatory, and grant requirements common to all ETA grants.

CORE ACTIVITY 2 GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

The purpose of the Core Activity 2 monitoring component is to evaluate the grantee’s capacity to perform the broad management functions that are required when operating federally funded workforce development grants. During this phase of monitoring, you will focus on nine program and grant management systems. Each objective focuses on a separate system or requirement and includes one or more indicators to assist in determining if the objective has been met.

To prepare for monitoring these core management functions, review the referenced authoritative citations that are in Appendix A. The appendix contains outlines of the compliance requirements that provide a quick reference for use in the field.

CORE ACTIVITY 3

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS

Financial management systems are part of the overall organizational administrative systems that support grant functions or are those activities necessary for the operation of a project but not related to the direct provision of services. The standards for financial management systems are in 29 CFR 95.21 and 29 CFR 97.20.

CORE ACTIVITY 3 GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

The purpose of the Core Activity 3 component is to evaluate the grantee’s capacity to perform the financial management functions that are required when operating federally funded workforce development grants and assure the proper safeguards are in place to protect grant assets. During this phase of monitoring, you will focus specifically on the financial management systems that relate to budgets, cash management, program income, cost allocation, allowable costs, internal controls, and financial reporting. If further review of any of these systems is necessary based on your findings, obtain copies of the documents relevant to your findings to share with the Office of Systems Support or the Division of Fiscal and Grants Management Policy and Review staff as appropriate.

To prepare for monitoring these financial management functions, review the referenced authoritative citations that are in Appendix A. Appendix B also includes a list of definitions related to grant activities and Appendix C outlines allowable costs addressed in the OMB Cost Principles Circulars.

Sources and Notes:

OBJECTIVE 3.2 Cash Management: The organization’s cash draws are necessary and reasonable, and the timing and amount of such draws appear to be as close as possible to the actual disbursement of grant funds for the payment of allowable and allocable costs incurred by the grant [29 CFR 97.20(b)(7); 29 CFR 95.22].

Summary of Indicators

- 3.21 Grant recipients have a mechanism in place, including policies and procedures, to minimize the time between the transfer of funds from the U.S. Treasury and disbursement of funds to pay allowable costs. The grantee draws cash as close to the time of making disbursements as possible. If applicable, grantees monitor the cash management activities of their subrecipients to ensure that the subrecipients conform to the same standards of timing and amount that apply to the grantees. C

CORE ACTIVITY 4

SERVICE DELIVERY

Core Activity 4 addresses the systems, procedures, and program operational elements that are essential to the effective delivery of participant and employer services or the development of a product.

CORE ACTIVITY 4 GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

The purpose of the Core Activity 4 monitoring component is to evaluate the grantee’s capacity and effectiveness in delivering services to participants and employers, or to deliver indirect services or products, in accordance with the grant SOW requirements. There are few Federal regulations that establish compliance requirements for service delivery, except for grants that must meet eligibility requirements. Consequently, most of the compliance indicators that the reviewer needs to evaluate in this section relate to the types of services and method of delivery that are specified in the grant agreement itself. In preparation for monitoring this core activity, the reviewer needs to become very familiar with the SOW and the other terms of the grant agreement, so that a determination can be made whether the grantee is fulfilling the terms of the grant and thereby complying with the conditions of the grant award. The other indicators in this core activity identify ways in which to measure the effectiveness of the grantee’s service delivery system.

CORE ACTIVITY 5

PERFORMANCE ACCOUNTABILITY

Core Activity 5 refers to the grantee’s accountability for performance as reflected by assessment in four areas: meeting service level and expenditure goals, meeting performance outcome goals, managing subrecipient and contractor performance, and using performance data for continuous performance improvement.

CORE ACTIVITY 5 GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

The purpose of the Core Activity 5 monitoring component is to determine whether the grantee is meeting its operating goals, such as planned service level and expenditure targets, and whether it is meeting its performance outcome goals, as well as to evaluate the grantee’s system for managing performance. During this section of the monitoring, you will focus specifically on the grantee’s progress to date in meeting its goals, its capacity to comply with generally accepted standards of accountability for its own activities and those of its program agents, and the grantee’s use of performance data to evaluate and improve the quality of services and products delivered.

To prepare for this section of the monitoring, review the grant operated by the grantee and those of its subrecipients and contractors (if any), become knowledgeable of the grant goals and objectives, review grantee reports on services provided and performance results achieved, and compare actual results against planned levels of performance.

OBJECTIVE 5.1 Service Goals: Grantee is on schedule to achieve its service level (or product) goals and fully utilize available funds [29 CFR 95.21; 29 CFR 97.20; SOW].

Summary of Indicators

- 5.11 An implementation plan identifies project goals, activity levels, spending targets, and timeframes that are directly linked to achieving grant goals. E
- 5.12 Grant spending is occurring at a rate consistent with the amounts budgeted through the most recent quarter being reviewed. C
- 5.13 The grant is currently meeting service level (or product) goals proposed in the grant agreement. C
- 5.14 The grantee is projected to meet all service level (or product) goals and fully utilize all grant funds by the end of the grant period. C

Indicator 5.11 (E)
<input type="checkbox"/> An implementation plan identifies project goals, activity levels, spending targets, and timeframes that are directly linked to achieving grant goals.
FPO Guidance: Review a copy of the grantee’s implementation plan. Compare it to the grant SOW. Interview staff responsible for administering the program of services.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Does the grantee have an implementation plan that guides the daily work of its staff? ▪ Does the plan directly link project activities to project goals and include appropriate timeframes, staff assignments and levels of effort for each major project activity? ▪ For a grant providing services to participants, has staff received a written formal process (e.g., a flow chart or other method) that illustrates the movement of program participants through service components that are directly related to project goals? Is the sequence of services logical? ▪ For a grant producing a product or providing an indirect service (such as research or capacity building), is there a plan (e.g., task plan or grant chart) of sequential activities in place that illustrates how activities are timed and coordinated to promote continuous progress toward project goals? ▪ Is the implementation plan used as a tool to measure planned versus actual activity as a means of tracking the progress toward goal achievement?
Sources and Notes:

Indicator 5.12 (C)

- Grant spending is occurring at a rate consistent with the amounts budgeted through the most recent quarter being reviewed.

FPO Guidance: Compare actual expenditures at the end of the most recent quarter with the level of expenditures forecast in the budget for the same period. Also include any findings or observations that result from these calculations or are related to budget requirements in Objective 3.1 (Budget Controls) as the comparisons are a compliance requirement for the grantee.

- Compute the variance from plan as follows: actual expenditures divided by planned expenditures, convert to a percentage and deduct 100 percent. For example: $$120,000/$160,000 = .75$ (75%) - 100% = -25% variance. Are actual expenditures within +/-15 percent of planned levels through the most recent quarter?
- If the grant does not have quarterly expenditure goals, compute the percentage of the grant period that has elapsed (e.g., 12 months of the 24-month grant period have elapsed, yielding a completion rate of 50 percent), and compare that percentage with the percentage of total planned expenditures achieved to date (e.g., 60 percent of total funds have been spent to date, divided by 50 percent of grant period that has elapsed: $60\%/50\% = 1.2$ (120%) - 100% = +20% variance).
- If the grant has an administrative cost limit or other cost minimums or maximums, project whether the current rate of spending will keep the grantee within those cost limits. Note any exceptions.
- If the grant has a line item budget, compare actual expenditures for each line item with the budgeted levels to determine if there are significant variances occurring. If any variance is currently or projected to be greater than +/-20 percent, determine whether a budget modification is necessary or advisable. For the personnel and fringe benefit line items, all variances that exceed the budget amount require a modification.
- If actual expenditures are significantly higher or lower than projected levels for this period, what are the causes for each variance from plan?

Sources and Notes:

Indicator 5.13 (C)

- The grant is currently meeting the service (or product) goals proposed in the grant agreement.

FPO Guidance: Examine the most recently available enrollment reports and compare the number of participants currently being served to the number of enrollments planned for this period in the grant's implementation plan. Perform the same analysis of other service goals that are identified in the grant. If the grant is producing a product rather than providing services to individuals, compare work completed to date with the product goals identified in the grant's implementation plan.

- Compute the variance from plan as follows: actual service level divided by planned service level, convert to a percentage and deduct 100 percent (e.g., $120/160 = .75$ (75%) - 100% = -25% variance).
- Are actual enrollments within +/-15 percent of planned service levels through the most recent quarter?
- If the grant only has grant-ending goals, compute the percentage of the grant period that has elapsed (e.g., 12 months of the 24-month grant period have elapsed yielding a completion rate of 50 percent), and compare that percentage with the percentage of total planned service levels achieved to date (e.g., 60 percent of total planned enrollments have been achieved to date, divided by 50 percent of grant period that has elapsed: $60\%/50\% = 1.2$ (120%) - 100% = +20% variance).
- If achievement of service goals varies significantly from projected levels, what are the causes for such variances?
- If the grant is designed to produce a product rather than serve participants, ask similar questions in order to compare the amount of work completed to date with the product goals identified in the grant's implementation plan.

Sources and Notes:

Indicator 5.14 (C)

- The grantee is projected to meet all service level (or product) goals and fully utilize all grant funds by the end of the grant period.

FPO Guidance: Using the information already gathered on current enrollment, other service goals, and expenditure rates, make a projection of whether the grantee’s service goals will be met and all available funds will be spent by the end of the grant period. If you and/or the grantee project that significant variances from the plan will remain by grant-end, determine what course of corrective action is needed to remedy the problems you have identified.

- What does the rate of enrollment look like? What is the grantee’s best estimate of the likely full-enrollment level?
- If current enrollments are significantly higher or lower than planned, does this imply that total enrollments will also be significantly higher/lower than planned at grant-end? If so, what are the budget implications of this? Does the grantee need to modify its implementation plan and/or budget due to any large variances from plan?
- Ask similar questions for other service or product goals.
- What is the expenditure rate? Does it appear that the grant funds will be fully utilized?
- If there are significant variances in expenditure patterns, what is the effect on the attainment of performance goals or service levels?

OBJECTIVE 5.2 Performance Outcomes: Grantee is on schedule to meet or exceed the performance outcomes that are identified in the grant agreement.

Summary of Indicators

- 5.21 The grant is currently meeting or exceeding the performance outcomes that are identified in the grant agreement. E
- 5.22 The grantee is projected to meet all performance goals by the end of the grant period. E

Indicator 5.21 (E)
<input type="checkbox"/> The grant is currently meeting or exceeding the performance outcomes that are identified in the grant agreement.
FPO Guidance: Performance outcomes are the end results that the grant is expected to accomplish. These could include the number or percentage of persons placed into jobs, the amount or percentage of earnings gained as a result of participation in the program, the number or percentage of persons who retained their jobs for an extended period of time, the number or percentage of persons receiving a credential or diploma as a result of training, etc. Examine the grantee’s most recently available performance reports and compare actual performance with planned performance from the beginning of the grant period through the most recent quarter for each type of performance outcome identified in the grant.
For each planned performance outcome, perform the following analysis: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Compute the variance of actual performance from plan as follows: actual performance results divided by planned results, convert to percentage, and deduct 100 percent (e.g., $120/160 = .75$ (75%) - 100% = -25% variance). Do actual performance results meet or exceed 85 percent of the planned outcomes through the most recent quarter (e.g., the variance from plan is -15 percent or better)? ▪ If the grant has only grant-end numerical goals, compute the percentage of the grant period that has elapsed (e.g., 12 months of the 24-month grant period have elapsed, yielding a completion rate of 50 percent), and compare that percentage with the percentage of total planned performance outcomes achieved to date (e.g., 60 percent of total planned outcomes have been achieved to date, divided by 50 percent of grant period that has elapsed: $60\%/50\% = 1.2$ (120%) - 100% = +20% variance). ▪ If actual performance is significantly higher or lower than planned levels for this period, what are the causes for each significant variance from plan?
Sources and Notes:

Indicator 5.22 (E)

- The grantee is projected to meet all performance goals by the end of the grant period.

FPO Guidance: Using the information already gathered on current performance results, make a projection whether the grantee will achieve at least 85 percent of each performance goal by the end of the grant period. If you and/or the grantee project that significant variance from plan will remain by grant-end, determine what course of corrective action is needed to remedy the problems you have identified.

- What do the performance trends look like? Is performance improving, staying about the same, or worsening over time?
- What is the grantee’s best estimate of the final performance levels that will be achieved by grant-end? Does this estimate seem realistic given the trends to date?
- If actual performance is 85 percent or less of planned levels, which factors seem to be having the most negative impact on performance outcomes (e.g., staff, program design, operational problems, etc.)?
- Has the grantee taken any action to correct the problems contributing to low performance? Have those actions been effective in improving results?
- What other actions are needed to improve performance?
- Does the grantee need to modify its implementation plan and/or budget due to any large variances from plan?

OBJECTIVE 5.3 Subrecipient Performance: The grantee holds subrecipients and contractors accountable for achieving their performance goals.

Summary of Indicators

- 5.31 Subrecipient and contract agreements contain clear, specific, and measurable performance goals. E
- 5.32 Grantee holds subrecipients accountable for actual versus planned accomplishments related to performance goals. E

<input type="checkbox"/> Subrecipient and contract agreements contain clear, specific, and measurable performance goals.
FPO Guidance: If the grantee has entered into subrecipient and/or contracts with outside organizations to perform some of the grant work, determine whether those agreements contain clear, specific, and measurable performance goals that can be tracked and evaluated during the period of the agreements.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Review a sample of subrecipients and contracts and interview grantee staff responsible for the performance of these service providers. ▪ Do these agreements contain specific and measurable performance goals that are quantified? ▪ Do these goals measure all of the primary activities and end-results to be accomplished consistent with the SOW? If not, how does the grantee hold them accountable for these other activities? ▪ Are the performance goals broken out into shorter increments of time, such as quarterly? If not, how does the grantee measure performance during the course of the agreement? ▪ Do the agreements contain any provisions requiring corrective action when performance goals are not being met? If not, how does the grantee enforce the performance terms of the agreement?
Sources and Notes:

Indicator 5.32 (E)

- Grantee holds subrecipients accountable for actual versus planned accomplishments related to performance goals.

FPO Guidance: If the grantee has contracted with subrecipients or contractors to perform some of the grant work, determine how the grantee reviews their reports, monitors their performance, and follows up on performance problems.

- Do the reports reflect the progress of subrecipients toward fulfilling goals and objectives outlined by the grantee?
- Is a procedure in place for the grantee to evaluate the reports?
- If so, has the procedure been followed?
- Are procedures in place to address reports that indicate performance below requirements?
- Do these procedures lead to a determination of causes for poor performance?
- Who initiates action when the reports suggest that corrective measures or technical assistance are required?

If no written process, summarize the standard operating procedure (SOP). Request and review copies of information used to create data for quality assessment.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Does the process as described identify logical links between SOW activities and the measures of program performance? ▪ How are “high” and “low” defined? ▪ Do they follow the formal analysis process or SOP? Look for consistency in the review process. ▪ When high or low performance is identified, what actions are undertaken to discover the causes? ▪ Are project managers consulted about high or low performance and the causes that produced them? ▪ Is the information provided quantifiable or easily reduced to data for comparative purposes? ▪ Are all staff, subrecipients, and contractors working on similar projects held to similar standards and required to undergo similar assessment? ▪ Do the data generated allow the grantee to make an objective assessment of the quality and effectiveness of methods used to provide services and products?
Sources and Notes:

Indicator 5.42 (E)

- Findings from the periodic reviews are communicated back to relevant staff and subrecipients to inform them of probable causes of high or low performance.

FPO Guidance: Request and review copies of formal procedures for notification of relevant staff and subrecipients about possible causes of high or low performance. Additionally, request and review examples of written notification.

- Do any existing formal procedures apply to notification of high or low performance and its suspected causes?
- Are relevant staff and subrecipients consulted in a timely fashion when they report high or low performance results?

- When unexpected performance levels occur, are they asked what they believe the causes are?

Sources and Notes:

Indicator 5.43 (E)

- Grantee uses information from these regular reviews to make adjustments to program operations.

FPO Guidance: Request and review copies of communication regarding low or high performance results. Interview staff responsible for taking action on low or high performance results.

- Did the responsible staff alter goals and objectives for the next reporting period?

Sources and Notes:

Indicator 5.44 (E)
<input type="checkbox"/> Grantee provides technical assistance to program operators (staff and subrecipients) when findings from review of performance-related data indicate that performance is below plan.

SUMMARY OF COST ITEMS

KEY

- NT = Not treated in circular
 A = Allowable
 AC = Allowable with conditions
 AP = Allowable with prior approval of either the Grant Officer or Governor
 U = Unallowable
 A/U = Some categories within the particular activity are allowable, while some are not. Please consult respective circular for precise explanations.

Note: Some of the costs on this chart are allowable under the circulars and prohibited under the Workforce Investment Act or other program-specific regulations. You should refer to the program-specific regulations if you have any questions on allowability of a particular cost. This chart is for reference only.

In addition, when reviewing the provisions related to selected items of cost in the OMB circulars, the cost principles applied in establishing the allowability of certain items of cost apply whether the cost is treated as a direct or indirect cost. Failure to address a particular item of cost is not intended to imply that it is unallowable. Rather, the determination of allowability in each case should be based on the treatment or principles provided for similar or related costs. Note also that, in some instances, different cost items may be similarly named, and there may be some overlap in the cost items treated by the different circulars. Again, this chart is for reference only.
